THE BANK QUESTION.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE, that the question of "Bank or no Bank" is to be submit-ted to the electors of Wisconsin at the general election on Monday, November 4th; that by a small and unworthy party trick, the vote, for t against Banks, is required to be on the same bal led with the names of candidates for State and Legislature Offices, that the connection of the Bank question with politics is thus, in a measure, Forced upon the People; that the "Democratic Secretary of State has failed to pire notice that such a vote is to be taken next month, and tha the Democratic presses neither publish the law and call attention to the fact !

Democratic State Convention kept MEN on the Bank question; that the candidates selected by that body keep MYN on the Bank question, and that the press- which support them, are either open and uncompremising in their hostility to Banks, or maintain a suspicious vilence on the KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE, that D.

VERY LIKELY .-- The Commercial protests velo mently that " what seem to be the leading ideas" in the article which they published derogatory the Germans and the Mechanics "never occurred to us (it) tilt we saw them in the Scalined." There is nothing improbable about this story. We say pose that the Commercial comes by most of its "leading ideas" in the same way, to wit, seein them in some other paper first.

THAT ARTICLERY SPIRED!-The Commercial had not a word to say, yesterday, about our and Mr. Estandook's vote in the Convention on the exemption clause. That sleepy organ suddenly discov ered that it had "wake up the wrong passenger." Perhaps Mr. Estantook, who was in town Sunday, enlightened its ideas a little. Somebody ought in charity to render our Druidicial neighbor the same hind service every day.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT.

People have been called upon to make choice of some lit person to fill this responsible stationary. Hitherto Parry has had nothing to do with this selection. The office has been rightly regarded as one which ought not to be dragged into the political areas, and by common consent a has been kept above the dust and dirt of partisan conflicts. It is very safe to assume that neutror Mr. Lyon, nor his friends would have challenged popular support on this ground, if they had had any other to stand upon. In accountes for such an office, it is an obvious and fatal confession of weakness, when a candidate chains the suffages of his political friends for party's sake.

Hat even this chain, so far is Mr. Ladd is conserved, is invalid. The nomination itself was in defined or popular sentiment and party usages.—

Or if Foco Tirker is elected save Mr. Campbell, one of to this responsible station. Consider how the still inquisitive, let them remember the Boy and the candidates for Snureme Court Judges, who question stood less than two months ago.

The Washington County Block, an undoubted

"democratic" paper, in casting about for a saitable person to succeed the present estimable Suorintendent of Public Institution, suggested the name of WILLIAM H. Lord, of Milwaukee (a genleman of finished education, of popular address of high character and conceiled ability. The suggestion took, instantly and universally. It was very warmly seconded by the Wisconsin of this city; by near-lives; by the Malison Arges, Badger State, Watertown Chronicle and Register, Potosi Repub-Bean, Janesville Garette, Racine Adecent -in short, we may in truth say, by almost the entire Press of the State, whether Democratic, Free Soil, or Whig. There did not seem to be a difference of opinion on the question, North, South, o West. All this transpired persons to the mosting of the Democratic State Convention.

It was the general belief, when that body as embled that it would adjourn without making my nomination for State Superintendent. Such, there can be no question, was the confident expectation of the Delegates throuselves; several o whom had aheady announced their purpose to support Mr. Lown. But it was found, after the and nominations for State Officers were completed, that the West had nothing; it was known that there was a gentleman in that section of the State who wished to be State Superintendent and wanted the party endorsement therefor; and it was suggested that the West could be satisfied with such a sop! Accordingly, as a political expedient, the Convention, without debate, and withcut consideration, voted that Mr. A. P. Lanu should be the democratic candidate for State Superintendent. This nomination was not only i violation of established precedent, a departur rom democratic usages, and in disregard of the prevailing popular sentiment; but it was unjust and unfair to that very large section of the Demseratic press and party who had already comnitted themselves to the support of Mr. Loan, and who had no other alternative than to stultify their own professions, or subject themselves to the impolation of "bolting" the regular ticket.— Is it not perfectly clear that a nomination so made endd not and ought not to be, building on the democratic party?

But if party considerations are, is they should be, entirely laid aside, can there be a doubt that William H. Lasin, the Independent Caudidate. has the better claim to the office of State Superintendent? He has the requisite ability, as all concede. He is thoroughly educated, as all who know him can testify. He has had six years experience as an Instructor, having taught all thre' his collegate course and for two years in an Acadenic Institution afterwards. He has mixed much with the world, and understands men as well as books. He has alsenes manifested a lively interest in the cause of Popular Education, and is an ardent friend and promoter of Free Schools. He has the faculty of communicating to Will Postmasters and others oblige us and the others the information which he houself has acquired, and commends, in his own person, the advantages of Study and the graces of Literature Here are abundant and substantial reasons for electing him State Superintendent. Hall the question been submitted a month ago, he would have been so chosen with scarce a show of opposition Is there anything in the chance recommendation of a political conclave, made without authority and in violation of public sentiment and party usage which should bring about a different result? We think not, and so thinking we hope to see th strong, spontaneous and unbiased expression of our People and Press, in favor of Mr. Lono, rati-

Our State election takes place a fortnight from to-day. The i-sues involved render it one of unusual importance to Wisconsin. R. believes every yoner, therefore, to assist at the hearing of the great cause, now on trial before the People, and to lend his voice and influence in making up the verdict. Little time now remains for discussion The points and the evidence in the case are already before the People. The opposing candidates and the opposing platforms have been held up to public view for a mouth past, so that he the time may read, and all men see the differ eners between them.

The hom has now come for across. It is idle to expect success in any clo-cly contested fight without due effort and organization. These are not the days of miracles. We must work if we would wis. Let this truth impress itself deeply upon our Whig friends all over the State. Let them, without delay, moster their forces and atmy their ranks for the approaching conflict. Let them make ready with their teams and rallying Committees to call out a full rate. Let them have challengers appointed and other pregations taken to ensure a fair cote. Let them get their lickets ready, so as to seeme an effective role. And let them, by their zealous, united and fundlagging efforts deserve a trimaphant rate! It is to the effect that the Germanic Diet intends nothing less than to stop press the independence of the three free towns, Ham burgh, Bremen, and Lubne, and to incorporate them in other German. States. Hamburgh is to fall to Prussia. It may be this is the last blow of the uphalders of monarchical power, which is to rouse the free-men of Germany in defence of their rights, and in a strong, invincible Union against such outrageous aggression. Somet or later such a union, and such a strug gle against arbitary power most take place. Mone Gannos. - The Wissensin draws upon is brilliant imagination for the assertion that the Scatinel " whines because the Common Council, after giving him an extra $46 job of advertising the issuing City Orders, refuses to publish a long report of the City Treasurer, which would afford han another fat job." There being not an iota of truth in the matter, the draft is, of course duly dishonored. An examination of the able report of the Treasurer, disclosed to us, that having been got up with great labor, and the closest attention to details, it did him infinite credit, and deserves all the praises that have been bestowed upon it; but it also exhibited too much rule and figure work to make us desire to publish it, in the present crowded state Mississippi show that the Convention will be of our columns, at any such price as we should composed of 3 Union men and 17 Secessionists charge the city for it. Syracuse, Oct. 12 For the last three days the Commissioner 1 For the lost three days the Commissioner has been receiving testimony for indictments, and tomortow, the 13th, it is understood the Marshal will commence his arrests for Treason! The evidence has been taken privately, the names of witnesses and the character and extent of their testimony being only known to the "officials." It is believed that no one giving testimony on the part of Government is of such good standing and character in this community, to be beyond impeachment! It will be fortunate for the accused if this be so, as this will be made the greatarm of defence. It is understood that many of our most prominent citizens will be arrested, among them Rev Samuel J. May, Unitarian Minister, who has lev. Samuel J. May, Unitarian Minister, who h iched "sedition" and "resistance" to the preached "Sutton" and "resistance" to the si-called Fugitive Slave Law; Charles A. Floraing Mill at Monroe.—We notice with pleasure the progress which is being man't towards the completion of the splendid Steam Floring Mill of Mesers. Moulton defish. In point of durability and architectural finish, it is unsurpossed by any editice of the kind we have seen in the west. The principal building is four stories high and built of brick, except the losement, which is of stone; the engine house is also huilt of stone. Mesers, M. F. are pushing the work forward with their characteristic energy; they are now setting the engine, and expect to start two "run of stone" in December next, and two more, as sum as the wants of the county demand them. The Mill is alike creditable to the enterprise of our citizens and to the appearance of our village,—Monroe Sentiach.
